

December 11, 2008

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Vann Data Goes Green While Benefiting Stewart-Marchman-Act Behavioral Healthcare – December 10, 2008

In an effort to spread the word about being environmentally conscious, Vann Data Services, Inc., the area's leading technology solutions company, encouraged the public to "Go Green" by dropping off old personal computers, monitors, printers, scanners, laptops, and other electronics to be properly disposed of. Vann Data partnered with A1 Assets, an industry leader in electronics recycling and reuse who will transport the old equipment to their facility where they will salvage parts for reuse as well as properly dispose of those components that are no longer usable.

Vann Data encouraged participants to donate $1 per item to Stewart-Marchman-Act Behavioral Healthcare. SMA provides comprehensive addiction and mental health treatment in Volusia and Flagler counties.

Guests were invited to enjoy free hot dogs and soda as a thank you for showing their care and concern for the environment and their support of Stewart-Marchman-Act Behavioral Healthcare.

The event was so successful that there are plans to make this a semi-annual event.

For more information on Stewart-Marchman-Act Behavioral Healthcare please contact Deborah Zeoli (386) 947-1416.

For more information on this event and Vann Data's services, please contact Julie Beard (386) 238-1200.

For more information on recycling electronics, please contact Andrew Hoopper at A1 Assets (407) 339-7030.